Canadian Charity Education is Power, Announces Event for Africa

Education is Power (EIP) is a registered Canadian charity founded in 2008. EIP has no paid staff and no administrative costs. All proceeds go directly to help disadvantaged African leaders study at African schools, with the end goal of using their education to help their community develop sustainably. On (insert date here) EIP will hold (insert event here). The event takes place at (insert venue here). Come out to support a new charity with a sustainable long term focus.

(This paragraph could be a brief overview of the event taking place. This could contain comments made by spokespersons etc.)

(This paragraph could contain more detailed information about guest speakers, musicians, or other guests at the event)

The charity was founded by Outdoor Education Instructor Dave Cuddy from Perth, Ontario. Dave became inspired by a number of East African youth who had a strong passion to help their communities, but had no way to afford post-secondary education. The organization now provides opportunities for secondary and post-secondary education in East Africa. Visit the EIP website at www.educationispower.org for more details.
